Report of Board of Trustees of Trust Funds

---

RYE, NEW HAMPSHIRE, February 2, 1931.

To the Citizens and Tax Payers of the Town of Rye:

On October 22, 1930, occurred the sudden and unexpected death of Mr. Willard A. Trefethen, a member of this board and its treasurer from its beginning. His associates bear sincere tribute to his faithful and conscientious work on this board.

Four Cemetery Trusts aggregating $453.82 have been added since our last report: $339.65 from income has been paid the trustees of Rye Public Library and $346.00 the trustees of Central Cemetery.

During the year the trustees have transferred to the principal amount of each interested trust certain increments to principal which have been realized through the paying off of United States Bonds at par, which bonds had been purchased at less than par. In the case of five other trusts where the principal has been invested in United States Bonds at small premiums, such premiums have been charged against the original principal amounts and the same will be amortized gradually from income.

Three thousand five hundred and fifty dollars of Trust Funds is invested in United States Bonds; $3,576.86 is on deposit in Rockingham County Savings Banks, and $10,500 in Town of Rye notes,—a total of $17,626.86. A tabulated report is presented herewith.

Respectfully,

SHIRLEY S. PHILBRICK,
CHARLES M. REMICK,
THOMAS W. PARSONS,

Trustees of Trust Funds.

Report of Library Trustees

---

RYE, NEW HAMPSHIRE, February 2, 1931.

To the Citizens and Tax Payers of the Town of Rye:

This has been an uneventful year in library history, so your trustees' report will be brief.

A new double unit bookcase, with glass doors, has been purchased and installed at the right of the librarian's desk. Another welcome addition to library equipment is an oak book display rack, the gift of the Every Other Tuesday Club.

As our files of annual town reports are still incomplete, the librarian would be glad to hear from anyone having duplicate copies. It is important that the town library have a complete set of these records bound for reference.

We are asking for an appropriation of one thousand dollars for library expenses for the coming year.

Report of Librarian

To the trustees of the Rye Public Library:

The following is the report of the Library for the year 1930:

Number of volumes in 1929.....	7,700
Number of volumes discarded .....	250
Number of volumes purchased .....	172
Number of volumes presented.....	230
Average circulation .....	135
Largest circulation .....	247
Smallest circulation .....	15
Money from fines .....	$12.15
Fine money spent for supplies.....	12.00

Last year it was decided to reserve the interest money from the Benjamin Webster and Disco Jenness Funds for the payments on a subscription to the Standard Dictionary of American Biography two or three issues a year until the set is complete. This year, for some unknown reason, the full quota has not been published so the balance of the interest has been used to cover the purchase of other books. Among the list are two for the reference table, "Hortus," compiled by L. H. and E. Z. Bailey, a reference handbook for all who have occasion to use information about plants; "New Encyclopedia of Music and Musicians," edited by Waldo Selden Pratt, a concise work giving definitions and descriptions of musical terms, biographies and a division relating to places associated with musicians.

Collections of books have been presented by Dr. Walker, Dr. Dodd, Mr. and Mrs. George Ayer, Mrs. R. E. Snow and several friends.

The third bulletin has been printed and may be had upon request. This gives a list of the books purchased during the year 1930.

Respectfully submitted,

HELEN C. DRAKE,

Report of the School Board

To the Citizens of Rye:

Once again your School Board makes its report of the work done the past year and calls your attention to the budget for the needs the coming year.

It has been necessary to make three changes in the staff of teachers, namely Junior High, South and East. We believe we were fortunate in securing teachers who are giving good satisfaction. They as well as the ones who have been with us the past years are doing good work. The usual repairs have been made the past year, and the school buildings are in good repair, with the exception of ceilings in two rooms at the Wedgewood School, which should be removed and steel ceilings put in place. The financial report will show how your money has been spent and the superintendent's report for conditions as he finds them.

Report of the Superintendent

To the School Board of Rye:

I have the honor to submit, herewith, my first report as superintendent of your schools:

That school district which retains its teaching staff intact for several years is assured of steady progress in the efficiency of its schools. Rye is fortunate in this regard, for the same teachers served your schools this year as did in 1928-1929. Thus the period of adjustment, which takes place when pupil and teacher must become acquainted, is eliminated.

The standing of your schools and the quality of their work is assured by the program of testing which has been undertaken this year. Tests in general ability have been given which determine, as accurately as is possible, the amount and quality of work of which each pupil is capable. Knowing this, it is much easier to arrange the schedule of each individual pupil in accord with his individual needs. In the final analysis all true teaching must seek its results in the pupil himself.

It is particularly gratifying to notice the increased interest of the children themselves in their work. The attendance honor roll reflects this interest, for we find this roll including thirty-five names, whereas that of the year 1928-29 showed but sixteen. Again the percent of attendance increased by two. This year's record of 96.26% is far above the state average.

Cadet teachers were again employed in the Junior High School. While it would be better to have qualified teachers throughout, the results, expense considered, are fairly satisfactory. I believe Rye has been fortunate in its cadet teachers this year.

Portsmouth will soon have its new Junior High School ready. While I believe the work of our school is all that could reasonably be expected, certain advantages pertain to attendance at a larger school. Teachers, having lighter teaching loads than is possible in small schools, are enabled to devote more time to each individual class. A wider range of courses gives the pupil a better opportunity to find that study for which he is best fitted and from which he can secure the greatest benefit. As Rye does not have a complete High School of its own and its pupils must attend another, the sooner contact is made with this second school—within reasonable limits—the better for the pupil. It therefore seems for the best interests of our pupils that they be sent to Portsmouth High School at the beginning of the tenth grade. Particularly is this true as the organization on that city is to be of the 6-3-3 plan.

The work in music is to be commended. Especially during the current year has the interest of the pupils increased. In the Junior High School glee clubs have been formed at the pupils' own request. Your children are learning to appreciate music and enjoy singing. Is this not after all, the chief object of music instruction in the public schools?

The establishment of an ungraded school would greatly aid the progress of your pupils. In this school all instruction would be individual, assuring a more steady advance for all pupils. The course of study would also be liberalized so that each pupil might develop his own special gifts. In this school pupils having difficulty in one subject would not have the progress of their entire year's work placed in jeopardy thereby. Promotion would be by subjects—not by grades. Pupils absent from school for a prolonged period would be allowed to enter this ungraded school temporarily until through individual effort they have arrived at the point where their advancement and that of the class are on a level. In this way, prospective failures of pupils, through absence or lack of adaptability to particular subjects, may be avoided. As each failure costs the town of Rye between eighty-five and ninety dollars, it is evident that any extra cost involved will be compensated for by a lessening of failures. The repeaters in Rye for the year 1928-29 numbered 16 and for the year 1929-30 there were 17. This number should not be as large. This plan would not necessitate the employing of any additional teachers, although one specially trained for this work would be needed.

I wish to express my appreciation of the kindly advice and help given me by the school board and of the uniformly pleasant contacts with the people of the town of Rye.

Respectfully submitted,

ROY W. GILLMORE,

Superintendent.
